Nancy -

Thank you for your inquiry.

You are correct. Garden Club Peanut Butter is in no way connected to either King Nut Company or to Peanut Processors. We purchase and roast all of our own peanuts, we do not use any externally processed peanut paste, and all production runs are sampled and tested for potential Salmonella contamination.

We will continue to do all we can to prevent introduction of any undesirable pathogens into the products we produce, and to assure a safe and wholesome supply of peanut butter to all of our customers.

Thanks -

Ed Clements
